

online seminar

29th November 2022
10:00 - 13:00 CET

Extensive livestock farming:

challenges and contributions to biodiversity and climate change adaptation

10:00 Welcome words

Introduction to extensive livestock farming and overview in Europe
Vicente Rodriguez University of Córdoba

Moderation Bárbara Pais ADPM

10:15 Panel 1: Biodiversity and climate change in extensive livestock farming in Europe

Introduction to the panel M. Eugenia Rodríguez Palop Member of the European Parliament

Clima & Biodiversity commitments and the role of extensive livestock farming, Peter Loeffler EU Commission - DG Clima

Extensive Livestock farming: differentiation and climate responsibility, Mireia Llorent Fundació Entretantos

Environmental services of extensive livestock farming, Vicente Rodriguez University of Córdoba

Improving climate adaptation in extensive livestock farms, Patricia Mora Innogestiona

Round-table participants and audience

11:30 Panel 2: Circular economy, paving the way for extensive livestock farming

Introduction to the panel, Isabel Carvalhais Member of the European Parliament

The importance of extensive livestock farming within the Farm2Fork strategy and CAP, Carlos Martín Olivo DG AGRI

Mobilising pastoralism, a path to differentiation, Pedro Herrera Calvo Fundació Entretantos

Mobilising the business sector - challenges and opportunities, María Bastidas, ADPM

Short supply chains for extensive livestock farming in Spain, Louise Mehauden Innogestiona

Labour organisation on farms working in short food supply chains, several issues and impacts to consider, Jocelyn Fagon and Christine Guinamard IDELE

Round-table participants and audience

12:50 Conclusions

registrations:

bit.ly/extensivelivestockseminar

organised by:

